

General Secretary – Prof. Dr. Christian Deutscher

Christian Deutscher is Professor for Sports Economics at Bielefeld University since 2013. He studied economics at the University of Bonn and earned his diploma in 2007. Christian Deutscher is Professor for Sports Economics at Bielefeld University since 2013. He studied economics at the University of Bonn and earned his diploma in 2007. He was awarded his PhD in 2010 from the University of Paderborn at the department for management. Christian's research predominantly covers incentives in tournaments, determinants of salaries and corruption in sports. He was an inviting expert at the sport committee of the German Bundestag on match fixing in soccer. Christian published in e.g. Economic Inquiry, The Scandinavian Journal of Economics and the Journal of Sport Economics.